DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The specification does not provide an enabling disclosure of what the "coating" is. Specific examples of what types of coating are contemplated are lacking from the disclosure and thus the specification is non-enabling.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 13, 14, 16, 18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the IEEE article to Ellam.

The article to Ellam discloses hybrid EMC absorber structures that each includes ferrite tiles and dielectric materials. The instant claims to a hybrid EMC absorber with a layer having a surface and a coating that covers a portion of the layer is substantially met by the disclosure of Ellam in that the ferrite tiles read upon the layer surface claimed and the dielectric materials read upon the coating claimed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed June 5, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the 35 USC 112 rejection, applicant's argue that one of ordinary skill in the art would know that the "coating" refers to a "resistive coating". This conclusion is incorrect. Nowhere in the specification does it teach one having ordinary skill in the art how to make and use a coating, specific to the electromagnetic absorber claimed, without undue experimentation. Aside from applicants arguments, there is no mention of a "resistive" coating anywhere in the specification. The arguments are not commensurate in scope with the instant claims or the specification.

Applicant's further argue that Ellam does not teach, disclose or suggest a matching network hybrid electro-magnetic compatibility absorber with a coating that covers a predetermined portion of the absorber's surface. This argument is not convincing since Ellam discloses (see abstract) a hybrid EMC absorber using ferrite tiles and multilayered, carbon loaded, dielectric materials. In as much as the dielectric layer reads upon the "coating" claimed, it is apparent that the claimed invention is anticipated by the Ellam reference, since the pyramidal configuration of Fig. 3 further reads upon the claimed "coating that covers a predetermined portion" of the absorbers surface.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
